NEW BUSINESS

7. Proof of Education: Transcripts Vs. Letter of Completion

To expedite licensure, board offices were tasked to review processes and take steps to reduce deficiencies. Transcripts are the most common deficiency in physical therapy. Currently, a license is not issued until transcripts are received; however, due to the National Physical Therapy Exam (NPTE) testing deadlines with the Federation of State Boards of Physical Therapy (FSBPT) a letter of completion (LOC) is accepted to allow an applicant to sit for the exam.

The Board was asked to allow a LOC rather than a transcript to verify the required education. This would be an efficient process for new graduates and staff while continuing to ensure those approved for testing have met the education requirements.

The Board requested Counsel to review the Florida Statutes and determine rule making authority. This discussion as well as Rule 64B17-3.001, Licensure, will be added to the August agenda for further review.
